Product Description

Modern Design Style Rockwool Sandwich Board for 100 Laboratory Clean Room Solutions

Product Description

With a maximum length of 9000mm, the Rockwool Sandwich Panel offers great flexibility in design and construction. Whether you need to cover a large area or create custom-sized panels, this product can accommodate various project requirements.

One of the standout features is its impressive Class A fire resistance, providing high-level protection against fire hazards. The panel width ranges from 950mm to 1200mm, offering options for different design preferences and structural needs.

Designed for superior performance and classified as Level A, these panels deliver exceptional thermal insulation and structural support for exterior walls, roofing, or partitions.

Featuring surface material of either Galvanized Sheet or SUS304, the panels combine rockwool insulation benefits with strength and corrosion resistance for long-term durability and weather resistance.
